

Where I'm From

By Yun Sun Hwang

I am from a true shining stone,
from Woody-scented perfume and sky-blue Rush bath bomb.
I am from cat fur (black, shiny, and smells like a teddy bear)

I am from Sunflower, who looks at the sun hotly every day; it dries up every summer.
I am from a family union and have fun playing games.
From Jaechul Hwang and Eunjoo Woo.

I am from looking at colorful paintings and photos.
From a place where I always get along and have a good time.

I am from a Christian and Dongsan Alliance church in NJ.
I am from Seoul and the Hwang family.

I am from pork kimchi stew and egg rolls.
I am from an older sister who is six years older and a younger sister who is six years older.
I am from the house where I lived for more than 20 years and came to a new place in the U.S.

I am from a new place that remembers my father in heaven, touching my father's winter hat and earmuffs.
