Homework 1 – Who are you?

I am born and raised in Brooklyn, New York. I am studying Biblical Studies and Theology. I am a senior scheduled to graduate May 2023. Jesus is my everything. I have believed in and relied on God since I was seven years old. When I was a young girl, I used to dream of teaching and preaching in churches and large conferences before I knew what a large conference was. I used to see tons of people gathered around in what looked like an indoor stadium. It was only when I really got into church as a teenager did I get a better understanding of what I saw in my dreams. I also dream of being an author. I used to say to myself all the time, I will be a New York Times best-selling author! Currently, what I dream of, and see myself doing now, is writing and traveling. The one person I do really admire out of the many that I admire is T.D. Jakes. Bishop Jakes really resonates with me because I get to see him doing everything I would like to do and experience. He lets me know that God is no respecter of person and if you are just willing, God has something above anything I can imagine in store for my life.
