

My covenant

I couldn't myself to a deep relationship and bond with Jesus Christ, who saved me from my sins and resurrected me during my times of sorrows. I vow to have a deep and personal relationship where I search for a try connect with the Lord. Though this relationship I find peace and clarity within my life and journey.

I want to focus on spending time with the lord where I seek true peace and find true love all while diving deeper into his word.

I hope to follow his call to missions in my life and am willing to give up the things of the world he he says that is what I need.
