

Yeyeong Kong

Professor Stubbs

ENG201: Global Literature

February 9, 2023

Tale of Two Brothers Summary

Anubis had a wife and the two brothers went out to work in the fields. One day, while the two were working, the seeds ran out. The older brother tells the younger brother to go home and get some seeds. When the brother gets home the sister-in-law, who was doing her hair at home, sees his brother Bata's body, and he seduces him into sleeping with him. The younger brother adamantly refuses, and he takes the seeds and went out to the field again. But he doesn't tell his brother what happened at home and he quietly continued to work. In the evening, brother Anubis returned home first. The sister-in-law tried to seduce him, but he refused. He complains that he behaved violently. The older brother got angry and took the spear and hid in the corral. He waits for the brother to come. The moment his brother Bata was about to enter the corral. The cow tells Batta that his brother is waiting with a spear tells the facts at this, Bata runs away. Anubis follows, and Bhatta prays to the god Re-Harakhti.

Then a great river appears between the brothers. They could walk across the river and Bata to show his honesty cut off his genitals and threw them into the river. It is said that the fish ate it. Bata to Anubis went to the valley of the Cedar Forest. The brother cut the tree and put it on his heart pouring a frothy beer. He says he will come back to life and disappears. After hearing the story of his brother, Anubis returns home and kills his wife. Bata entered the valley of the cedars and built a house there. He lived alone, but the god Khnum took pity on him and created a woman to live with Bata. One day Bata's wife left the house and a man chased her and she ran away. She leaves hair on cedar branches. The man who saw the hair took it to the pharaoh. The Pharaoh sent men to bring Bata's wife. Bata's wife lived with the pharaoh and tells the secret of Bata's heart. Eventually, the cedar tree is cut down, and Bata dies.

Brother Anubis after wandering for three years in search of his younger brother Bata finds out the Cedar trees cut down in the cedar forest and finds Bata's heart. He pours the frothy beer and makes Bata back to life as a bull. Bata became a bull and went to the pharaoh's palace for revenge. He went to find his wife and he reveals that he is Bata. Bata's wife was very afraid and said to Pharaoh to kill the bull. Bata in the form of a bull was killed with two drops of blood splattered on the gates of the palace. It is said that two large trees grew there. Bata's wife said let's cut down this tree and make furniture. Later Bata's wife gets pregnant and she gets a baby, but that baby was none other than Barter. It resurrected. After the death of the pharaoh, Bata became the new king. He reveals everything and puts his wife on trial. Bata brings his brother Anubis.