

God, you are eternal and almighty. You created the universe and I, your creation. You see everything and you know my thoughts. I know you understand my motivation for coming to you now. I assure you that it is not for personal gain... My heart is deceitful and evil, but I want to dedicate my time to you forever. I come to you as a sinner lost and ruined by my mistakes and the fall of humanity. When I look back on my past, I feel ashamed and embarrassed. I am uneducated and in your eyes an animal. You made Adam holy and happy, but he disobeyed and death was the penalty. I inherited that depravity and punishment from him. I accept your judgment and submit it to you.

How can you, Lord, take care of me, a humble creature? It is truly an act of great kindness to even acknowledge my existence. But your love and kindness are limitless and have always existed. Lord, you sent your son in human form, with a body like mine and a rational soul. He combined all the perfections of your divinity with the humility of our human nature. He is the mediator of the new covenant, and through him, we all have access to the Spirit. Through Jesus, the only Mediator, I come to you, Lord, and trusting in his sacrifice and mediation, I confidently approach your throne of grace. I am aware of my own insufficiency Lord, but please strengthen me with Your Spirit... I come to you now to make a covenant with you for eternal life. Your Word has told us that it is Your will that all who believe in Your Son have eternal life and that You raise them on the last day. They gave us a new covenant and sealed it with the blood of Jesus on the cross.

I declare before you and my conscience, invoking the heavens and the earth made by my God, that I fully accept this covenant and agree to its terms. This means that I believe in Jesus and I am saved by Him, who is my Prophet, Priest, and King, and who gives me wisdom, justice, sanctification, redemption, and complete redemption. Lord, you prepared me to come to you and your love tamed my rebellious heart. Please take it and use it for your honor, and overcome any rebellious thoughts that may arise. I surrender to you as if I had been brought back to life, now and forever. Use me fully for your honor.

God, please confirm this covenant in heaven. Remember this when you reach the Jordan and on the day you come to judge the world with all the angels and saints. Let me be with you at your right hand and in heaven forever. Write in the sky that I am yours now, only yours, and I will always be yours. Help me in times of temptation and never let me break this pact. I know my weakness, I can't do this alone. But with your strength as my savior, I will be strong and overcome all obstacles through the love you have for me.

Now, Lord, as you promised in your word, I have made a pact with you, not for honor or worldly glory, but for eternal life. I trust that you are faithful and will never break your holy word. Please grant me all the blessings of the New Covenant, especially the fullness of the Holy Spirit, who is a guarantee of my inheritance until I have received all I have bought that have strayed from you. Make me perfectly holy and fit for heaven. Give me all spiritual blessings in Christ Jesus in heaven.

I am now a faithful Christian and follower of Jesus, and my new motto is 'Jesus is my only King.' Please guide me and strengthen me, Lord, and stay with me always.

Put me in any situation you want, but if it is your will I ask you not to give me wealth or extreme poverty. Give me just enough so I don't have to steal you or forget you. I submit to your will. Please give me your guidance and protection always so that I may be content, find peace, and be happy with your blessings.
