Solemn Covenant Rewrite

Dear God, I know that you are all-knowing and all-powerful. You made this world and me, and you know everything that I'm thinking. I'm here today because I have the desire to dedicate my life to you, for eternity. I know that I'm a sinner, and I'm ashamed of my past. I would like to come before you and make a covenant with you. I would like to pledge to obey your laws and to trust in your Son, Jesus Christ to be my Savior. I know that you love me even though I am a sinner. You have given me a new covenant, and through Jesus Christ your Son, I accept it and pledge to obey it. I also pledge to put my trust in your mercy and to obey your commands. I know that you will help me to obey your will and in return, I will obey you. I declare this before all the angels in heaven and on earth, and I am willing to obey you forever. I realize that my heart is deceitful and wicked and I don't trust in it. But I know that you know my true motives. This is why I'm here to ask for your forgiveness and to pledge my life to you for all of eternity. I'm ashamed of my past, and am filled with confusion and regret. You are the eternal, almighty ruler of the universe. Please forgive me for my sins and help me to change. Thank you for listening to me. When I look back on my past life, I feel ashamed and confused. I was rude and ignorant, and in the eyes of other people, I was a tyrant. You, Lord, made Adam holy and happy. And you also gave him the ability to keep his relationship with you and prosper. The penalty for his disobedience was death, and so when he disobeyed your holy law he died as a result. I as a descendant from Adam have inherited this penalty. I acknowledge the justice of your sentence, O Lord, and humble myself before you. God you are so great as to look at someone as sinful as me and forgive me. Your love is infinite and everlasting and I am forever grateful for your sacrifice of your own blood. In Jesus, God united all of the perfections of the Godhead with the humility of my sinful nature. He is the Mediator of the New Covenant, and through Him, everyone has access to God through the same Spirit. Through Jesus, the only advocate, I can come to God trusting in His words and mediation. You Lord, have told us that it is your will that all who believe in Jesus might have an everlasting life. You have given us a New Covenant, and by sealing that covenant in your blood, with Jesus on the cross has made it possible for everyone to have salvation in heaven with you.
