A.B Simpson Solemn Covenant In Common English

Lord of the universe, you are an eternal and powerful being. You created this world and me, one of your creatures. You are everywhere, observing both good and evil. At this moment, you see me and know all of my thoughts. My innermost thoughts are all familiar to you, and I feel that you know the reason why I have come to you at this moment. I pray to you, you who search the hearts, for it is not a worldly purpose that has brought me before you at this time. But even while I would not pretend to put my trust in my “heart, which is terribly wicked above all else,” You know that I long to devote my life to you for all of time and all of eternity. I would approach you as the most evil of all of your creations, a sinner who has been lost and destroyed by the fall, as well as by my own sins. I feel ashamed and confused as I reflect on my former life. I am impolite, illiterate, and a beast in your eyes. Adam was made holy and content by you, my Lord, and you granted him the capacity to retain that state. Because he defied your Holy Commandments and received the death penalty for it, I, as his descendant, have inherited both this depravity and this punishment. Lord, I recognize the justice of your judgment and I humbly submit to you.

How is it possible for you to gaze at me, a repulsive being, my Lord? Because to notice me would be unfathomable disdain. However, it is true that your loving kindness is limitless and eternal. You sent your son with a body like mine and a sensible spirit, in order to reflect our likeness. All the attributes of the Godhead were combined in him with the weakness of our sinful nature. He is the New Covenant's Mediator, and it is through him that we all have access to you through the same Spirit. I would approach you, my God, through Jesus, the only Mediator, and with confidence in his merits and intercession, I would come fearlessly to your seat of grace. My Lord, I recognize my own insignificance; nonetheless, give me power through your Spirit. I would now come to you and make a covenant with you for eternal life. You have stated in your Word that it is your will for everyone to have eternal life, and that you will raise him up at the last day. On the cross, Jesus, you made a New Covenant with us and sealed it with your blood.

“ I now declare that I accept the terms of this covenant and close with them before you and before my conscience, and I give witness to those in Heaven and on Earth, which God has created. These are the things that God has given me in the form of wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, redemption, and total salvation when I trust in Jesus and accept salvation through him, my Prophet, Priest, and King. I'm willing to come to you now because of you, Lord. By your love, you have tamed my unruly heart. Take it now and put it to use for your glory. You must put an end to any rebellious ideas that may originate there and subdue anything that challenges your rule. As one raised from the dead, I offer myself to you forever and all eternity. Take me and solely utilize me for your glory.

Ratify this covenant right away in Heaven Father. Keep in mind, as you lead me to the Jordan. Remember this Lord, on the day when you judge the world alongside all the angels and saints. May I be at your right hand then, spending all of eternity in heaven with you. I have been alone and alone all the time. Record this in heaven. In the face of temptation, remember me God, and help me to keep this commitment. I recognize my own frailty, Lord; do not allow me to do this on my own power, for I am destined to fail. But in your strength, Lord of my Salvation, I shall be strong and more than a conqueror through him who loved me.

“ Now, my Lord, I have made a commitment with you in accordance with what you have said in your word, not for glory or fame in this world, but for eternal life. I know you will never lie in your own words. Give me all of the New Covenant benefits right away, but in particular, give me a lot of the Holy Spirit, who is the guarantee of my inheritance until the purchase’s redemption. Please grant me a twofold amount of your Spirit and after that, I’ll go tell the sinners and declare your ways to the transgressors. Make me completely sanctified and heavenly-worthy. Give me all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Jesus’s name.

My new slogan is, “ I have one King, even Jesus,” as I am now a soldier of the cross and a devotee of the Lamb of God. My Lord, aid me and strengthen me, and be mine always.

Place me in whatever conditions you want, but if it is your will, I ask that you “ do not grant me poverty nor riches; nourish me with food commodities, to prevent me from being poor and steal, or so that I may not be rich and say, Who is the Lord?” Your will, nevertheless, be done. Now grant me your spirit and your protection in my heart at all times, and I will drink deeply of the rivers of salvation, recline by peaceful streams, and experience infinite joy in your favor.

My Personal Covenant

Father of yesterday, today and tomorrow I make this commitment to serve you for the rest of my life here on earth. I put my life and ministry in your hand and whatever is required of me I will do it. God be my rock today and I will give my whole life to you. I form this covenant with you that wherever you send me I will go. Use me for your glory and blessings so that I can reach those who are stuck in the dark world. God I know I have sinned against you because no human being is perfect but today I ask that you will sanctify me and separate me from sin. Thank you for sending your son Jesus Christ to die for my sins and I commit my life to you. Without you God I am nothing. Without you God I know I will fail; be my guide today and forever more that I may see your face in eternity. God thank you for being a forgiving God, a God that nothing is impossible with. God remake my mind, spirit and soul today and I will give you all of me through Jesus's Name Amen.
