

David Proano

Dr. Stephen Nehlsen

Nyack Heritage

Spring Semester, February 11, 2023

Rewriting the Solemn Covenant

“You are infinite and the Ruler of space, You are the one who made this realm and me, who is over it, You are cunning while regarding the evil and the good, You see me at this time and know all my hopes. I experience and feel that my intimate concepts are all familiar to You and You know what reasons have persuaded me to come to You, the present. I appeal to You, a changer of hearts, up until now as I experience my own courage, it is not a worldly purpose that has led me before You immediately. But my essence is dishonest above all belongings and frightfully corrupt, and I would not trust it. But, You know that I have a desire to be sacred to You for a short time and forever. I am a sinner before You, I am wasted and spoiled, and by my real transgressions as the horrible things happen. When I remember my past, I am filled with shame and disorientation. I am crude and unknowing, and in You, shine bright. You Lord, formed Adam to be religious and satisfied, and gave him talent to maintain a welcome state. The punishment for his wrongings was death, but he disobeyed Your rules and he claimed that penalty, and I have acknowledged this immorality and this punishment. I acknowledge the fairness of my punishment and agree before You. “In what way or manner can You come down to observe me, a horrible person? To notice me is to forever be condemned. But doubtlessly, Your caring generosity is limitless and everlasting. You pleased You offspring in our representation, with someone like me. In Him, we were united with all the perfections of God accompanying our immoral nature. He is the referee of the New Covenant, and through Him we all have an approach to You. Through the Son of God, the only Judge, I will be equal and trusting in forgiveness. I would bravely approach Your royalty of grace. I feel my own insignificance, but You power me with Your Essence. I would immediately approach You in order to agree with You. You and Your discussion has told us that it is Your Will that depends on Your offspring's ability to have everlasting life and You fail to raise him up at the day of reckoning. You have given us a New Covenant and secured that covenant in Your blood. "I immediately reveal before You and before my shame and show you and the settlers, which my Father lives well, that I acknowledge the environments of this covenant and come or bring together the agreements". I trust in Jesus and acknowledge redemption through Him. You have intrigued me to come to You. You have controlled my disobedience by Your love so immediately take it and use it for Your glory. Anything disobedient hopes for possibility and You overcome disobedience. I bring myself to You for a short time and eternity. Take me and use me completely for You glory. Remember I have glorified You, You only, and You forever. Look back at me in time, and let me never stay away from this covenant. I can feel my own faults and don't create this in my own strength, I must make them different. In You, I am going to be forceful and in addition, I will conquer through Him who desires me. Immediately store the advantages of the New Covenant and the Holy Spirit in excellent wealth, that is the series of my inheritance. Let double the blessings be poured onto me from Your soul, and before I go and advertise to others Your habits and Your laws to people as a political whole. Store me completely and form me fit for paradise. Present me all religious approval in heavenly places in the Son of God. You will be approved. Now present me Your Soul and Your guardianship in my soul at all times, and before I am going to drink off the waterways of readiness, lie down by still waters, and be extremely satisfied in the favor of my Holiness.

David Proano

Dr. Stephen Nehlsen

Nyack Heritage

Spring Semester, February 11, 2023

My Solemn Covenant

The Lord is gracious and everlasting. He is someone that is forever my light on my path that I will follow. I am eternally grateful for the mercy and love that He has shown me and hope to show my love for Him. God wants us to commit to Him as much as He wants us to be with Him in Heaven. Many things in my life I struggle to comprehend like time, money, and focus. Through the years I have grown to commit myself into growing responsibility and commitment to God in these areas, I have been able to thoughtfully put the right amount of understanding into my money and focus unto God. Out of these, I struggle with giving time to God and finding time. It is hard for me to give something time when most of the time I do not feel like I have enough freedom. My mind tries to also find excuses to what it thinks it should do. Should I try and give God the time and care that He deserves or should I go and do other things that take away focus from God? Essentially, that is the question that would come up to my mind and in most cases, I end up leaving no time for God. It pains me because I love to have my time with God and talk. Recently, I have tried to better my time management and what I choose to do and I feel that there is a bit of improvement. I soon hope to grow this into something that I am proud of. My time is what I want to commit to God and for good reason. Out of all the aspects of myself that I try to grow, time has been the hardest. With that, if I can give God my time when I do not feel like I can, I can see growth with myself in God. The love of God is one that we should not look over but embrace and be glad to be able to have at any moment.