

Soloment convent by A.B Simpson (in modern words)

Our almighty God, you have made this world that included me. But due to the evilness in the world, I fell victim to sinning. And looking back I regret what I have done, just like Adam did. God has made and I accept the decision my conscience had bear witness to. Lord me strength my spirit, and I accept Jesus as my king, prophet, priest, as he made me onto God as a righteousness. I have now convent with you, I know the true art and never break the holy word . May the holy spirit lay in me. As the spirit and thy have and still will protect me, I will drink of salvation and lie down the waters, while being forever being happy with my God.
