A Solemn Covenant

Lord of the universe, you are an eternal and powerful being. Who formed this planet and me, one of your creatures. You are everywhere, seeing both good and evil. During this moment, you see me and know all of my thoughts. I am aware that You know all of my thoughts and feelings, and I feel as though You are aware of why the fact that You know all of my thoughts and feelings, and I feel as though You are aware of the reasons, I have chosen this particular moment to seek you out. I ask you, the Searcher of souls because it is not a worldly purpose that has brought me to you at this time, as far as I know, my own heart. However, I would not pretend to put my confidence in my heart because it is "deceitful above all else and terribly wicked," but you are conscious of my desire to commit myself to you for all of the time and all of the existence I would approach you as the most unpleasant of all of The creatures a sinner, lost and damaged by the Fall and by my own sins. I feel so ashamed and confused when I dwell on my past life. I am impolite, uneducated, and a beast in your eyes. Adam was made holy and pleased by you, Lord, and you granted him the ability to keep that condition. Because he disobeyed the holy rule and suffered the death penalty for it, I, as his descendant, have inherited both this corruption and this punishment. Lord, I see the justice of Your judgment and I respectfully submit to you.

How is it possible for You, Lord, to look at me as a hideous being? Because even noticing me is incredibly disrespectful. But your love is limitless and forever. You sent Your Son in our form, Lord, with a body like mine and a conscious spirit. All the characteristics of the Lord were blended with our fallen nature's humility in Him. We all have access to him by the same Spirit since He is the New Covenant's Mediator. I would approach the seat of grace with confidence by using Jesus as the only Mediator and relying on His merits and mediation. Lord, I see my own insignificance, but do You? You give me strength with Your Spirit. I would now come to you and make a commitment with you for everlasting life. You stated in Your Word that it is Your Will for everyone to have everlasting life and that You will raise him up on the final day. On the cross, Jesus, you made a New Covenant with us and sealed it with Your blood.

I now announce to you and to my consciousness that I accept the terms of this covenant and close with them, and I give witness before you and before my conscience, my heavens and all who reside there, and before the earth which my God made. I embrace salvation through Jesus, my Prophet, Priest, and King, as being given to me by God as wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, redemption, and total salvation. You, Lord, have given me the desire to come to You. With Your love, you have subdued my rebellious heart. Take it now and put it to use for Your glory. You must put an end to any rebellious thoughts that may develop there and subdue anything that opposes Your rule. As one raised from the dead, I give myself to you for all of existence and all of eternity. Take and just use me for Your glory.

Ratify this Covenant right away in Heaven, my Father. Keep that in mind, Lord, as You lead me to the river. Remember this, Lord, on the day when You judge the world with all the saints and angels, and may I be at Your right hand then, enjoying all of eternity in heaven with you. I have been made Thine, Thine alone, and Thine for all time. Mark this in heaven. In the face of temptation, recognize me, Lord, and help me to keep this commitment. I recognize my own weakness, Lord; do not allow me to do this on my own power, for I am destined to fail. But in Him, captain of my salvation, I will be powerful and more than a conqueror.

I have made a covenant with You, in line with what You stated in Your Word, not for glory or honor in this life, but for eternal life, and I know you are faithful and shall never backtrack on the holy Word. Give me all the New Covenant benefits right away, but especially a generous quantity of the Holy Spirit, who serves as a placeholder for my inheritance until the purchase's redemption. May two portions of the Spirit rest upon me, and then I will go and tell the people about those who break the rules and the ways of the violators. Make me completely holy and suitable for heaven. In the name of Jesus, give me access to all heavenly benefits.

I have one King, even Jesus, from this moment on. I am a soldier of the cross and a follower of the Lord. my Captain, help and strengthen me, and be mine forever. Place me wherever You will, but if it is The holy will, I pray that You "grant me neither poverty nor riches; fill me with food suitable, lest I be impoverished and steal, or lest I be wealthy and say, Who is the Lord?" However, I will be done. As soon as I always receive Your Spirit and Your protection in my heart, I will be able to drink from the rivers of salvation, rest by peaceful waters, and experience an endless amount of happiness thanks to my God.
