Hours This Week: 11 Total Hours: 161 / 360

HOURS SPENT / TASKS & ACTIVITIES	REFLECTIONS    JOURNALING    THOUGHTS    PROCESSING
One on one prep: 2.25 hours            One on one meetings: 4            Mentoring and meeting with Hans(Course Mentor): 0            Prayer meeting attendance/observation/prep: 1.5            Hang out with students: 1            Attend freshman SG: .75            IV intern meeting and homework: 1.5 Total hours: 11 3 days this week were spent on a spiritual retreated offered by intervarsity. It does not corollate directly to ministry task outlined in contract but does to spiritual health and wellbeing. Did not count that time towards hours this week.	One on one meetings: This week showed me that there is a deeper sense of trust between the students and me, then I thought there was. I say that because of the things shared and the willingness of the students to go deeper in relationship with God, preparing the present gospel to non-believer friends and noticing hinderances to deeper relationship with others in the chapter and the chapters ability to welcome others well over the long term. Hanging out with Students and attending (not leading) the freshman study and attending prayer meetings have been good opportunities to share life with students this has made me wrestle through and realize more and more that work life and general life balance or boundary is blurred and that is okay. My life, my walk with Jesus is a part of my work life and my work life is part of my walk with Jesus. Establishing a rhythm of sabbath has been hard because of the blurred reality stated above but it is not impossible, it is just a battle sometimes.
