“There is no need for Christians to obey the law (Ten Commandments) anymore because we cannot gain our righteousness through it, but only through faith in Christ.”

When we look at the 10 commandments aside from the bible we can refer to the 10 commandments as a divine set of rules that will help us live a Christ-like life. Throughout the bible the 10 commandments can be found in Exodus 20 verses 2-17 and Deuteronomy 5 verses 6 to 21. In both of these scripture reading we are able to find a full set of the 10 commandments that God gave to Moses on Mount Sinai. The 10 commandments were given to Moses so that the Israelites could become a strong nation. These 10 commandments allowed the Israelites to pledge royalty, obedience, and respect to God although many people around them were worshipping idols.

As a Christian although the 10 commandments are part of the Old Testament I believe they are important and should still be followed today. Believe it or not the Ten Commandments are vital to our walk with Christ and to our everyday lives. These commandments paved the way for us as believers to know exactly what we should and should not do. For a Christian the 10 commandments should be seen as 10 golden rules to get us through life and closer to Jesus if we follow them and stay in his word. Yes Christians should obey the Ten Commandments because Serving God and being Christ-like has rules and consequences just like any choices we make in life. When it comes to being a Christian we should follow every rule in the bible and not just the things that we believe personal speak to us because believe it or not we are all fall short of the Glory of God but we are trying to be better day after day.

In the New Testament of the bible the Ten Commandments are still important although we do not see it as much. In John 14 verse 15 Jesus asks us as Christians to prove we love him by keeping his commandments. If keeping the Ten Commandments are connected to proving that we love Jesus then, the Ten Commandments hold a lot of weight.

In the Old Testament Salvation was the same way as the New Testament. We are only saved by grace to faith in Christ Jesus. Obeying the 10 commandments are important to all believers because they guide us in our Christian faith. There is a need for Christians to obey the law because it keeps us accountable to work positively increase our faith in Jesus Christ.
