

Student: Sabine Ocean

National Museum of the American Indian culture

1. The name of the museum can be traced back to the collection of George Gustav Heye (1874). The museum was founded on April 06, 1869, and has assets over 1,463 billion USD. It is the history of the world and the universe through a wide-ranging program of scientific knowledge and research, education to explore and learn about the cultures fundamentals American ideals and ideas.

Such as democracy opportunities and freedom for the community, it was MAMNH is a private 501(c) (3) my most prominent that stood out for is the scientific important collection of dinosaur and fossil vertebrates in the world. The museum has six halls that tell us different articles' stories; the vertebrate evolution of the public's favorites includes the Tyrannosaurus and apatosaur. Also, a view of Roosevelt rotunda is the tallest free-standing dinosaur in the world, which has been remounted to reflect the current scientific theories about dinosaur behavior trying to protect her calf from a attackcking all dinosaur.

The hall of biodiversity is devoted to the most pressing environment issues of our times. The criticism need to preserve the variety and interdependence of the earth Living things Exhibits knows vto striking dioramas.

The Human an ongoing and cultural Halls

Examine the culture of Asia, AFRICA AND NORTH AND

SOUTH America also pacific m; Mammals halls .

The rose centers for earth and space center for earth and space definitely can miss 3 icons

Exhibit the blue hall in the hall of ocean life, African elephant on the keley of African Mammals dinosaur the most fossil in the museum around 147 million years old .

The rose museum for earth

Exhibits; the hayden planetarium and heyden big bang

My honest thoughts about this museum it had six major issues and challenges the we the wold Indian museums is the audiences and the community to be more involvement and a stronger role leadership also to have more staffing to develop the information topics and life journey Shared to provide pasted worldwide information.

