Son of Man in Enoch and Daniel

In the Parables of Enoch 37-71, Enoch had been taken into heaven and was shown prophetic visions concerning a figure known to be the Son of Man who is also called the “Chosen one”, “Anointed one”, and “Righteous one”. The prophetic visions Enoch was shown was vision of things to happen in the future. He saw a Messianic figure sitting on a throne getting ready to judge the deeds of the unrighteous and wicked people who have rejected God but also judging the righteous as well then coming to earth at the end to dwell with the righteous. The Son of Man will be the light of the nations, being worshipped by all who dwell on the earth. In the end, the righteous will have salvation. It also describes how He will destroy sinners and strike down kings and rulers who are also against God. In Daniel chapter 7, Daniel is also given a dream and details of the future concerning four world empires, symbolized as the four beasts. These four beasts are known to be the four kings that will rise from the earth. Daniels vision provided a prophetic look at future world events. To my understanding, I believe the two texts have a relationship when it comes to The Son of Man giving Daniel and Enoch visions/dreams of future events and what will be done among the wicked, righteous and kingdoms. What both texts tells me about the topic is how The Son of Man is in both texts using Daniel and Enoch to get his message across to the people.
