Every Knee Shall Bow Whether You Like It Or Not

This was how I learned what God meant when He said in the book of Rev“ That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those in heaven, and of those on earth, and of those under the earth.” You can bow down to God mandatorily or voluntarily, either way we all as humans shall bow one way or another. And with this essay you will learn how I experienced this momentum that I used to question about.

So it was one afternoon, where I would usually be watching my favorite Christian tiktoker, she says that she’s a prophetess. She was showing good fruits; financially, she had patience and she wasn’t judgemental and plenty more other fruits. She would usually go live everyday and even in the night and morning times. So there was one day I was suppose to go on the livestream with her and another prophet. I was acquainted with them, they made me their moderator on their livesteam. So whenever they go live I would help them mute the disrespectful people that are trying to bash God and His messages through them. I did not have much followers to go live myself nor join others who are live. They would call on people who God would highlight to them, the person He wants to speak to. It took a longtime for my time to finally come, God was basically teaching me patience in those moments because I was definitely not patient at all. And I would get jealous when others would receive a word from God but not me, so I am grateful that He was teaching me to wait my time. The prophet was telling me a little part of what God wanted to say to me, but he did not want to say the whole thing without her being present with him. My turn has now finally arrived and they wanted me to join the livestream. I did not have a lot of followers enough to be able to join. In order to join livestreams on Tiktok, you would need to have around 1000 and more followers but I have less than one thousand. I had to ask a friend to borrow their account, so that I can go on the live. She has more followers than I do, however when I got the permission to use her profile, I went and told them that I can now come on the livestream. They added me on it and another prophetess was also on and she was talking to them including everyone in the comment section. They started speaking to me about what they said they heard from God. My dad came in and saw that I was talking to them, he doesn't know any of them so he called me into his room where my mom also was and he was warning me to be careful of those who I let prophesy and pray over me. When I got back to my room, the people who I was on the livestream with literally repeated back to me what my dad said to me, I WAS SHOCKED. Why? Well because I left my phone in my room so there was no way they would be able to hear what my dad said to me. This was the first time I had ever experience prophesy for myself, when I would see others experiencing it I thought they were faking it and that all the information they spoke about was already said to them about. therefore they would already know what to say.

Fast forward, I was surprised and I asked them “How did you know?” and they said that the Holy Spirit told them what was said and then they started to speak about what I went through in the past and yet I
