

Joshua Duran
HIS114
Alliance University
02/28/2023

Film summary

Isms:

Conservatism: This group is usually moved by power and believe that government can and will move a nation.

Classical liberalism: While conservatives believed government should set the rules, classical liberalism believed that people should have more saying and those in government should listen to the needs of people.

Nationalism: This group wants to be able to come together as a nationality.

Socialism: While this set of groups only wants to take what is needed; no more nor less.

Romanticism: Finally, this group is moved by emotions and feelings rather than being “rational.”