

World CIV II

Samara Phillips-Hines

Film Dropbox-Film, "Isms"

1. Conservatism: A political philosophy that emphasizes the preservation of traditional institutions, values, and customs, and opposes radical changes or revolutionary movements.
2. Classical Liberalism: A political philosophy that emphasizes individual liberty, free markets, and limited government intervention in economic and social affairs.
3. Nationalism: A political and social ideology that emphasizes the importance of national identity, culture, and sovereignty, and promotes the interests of one's own nation above others.
4. Utopian Socialism: A philosophical and social movement that aimed to create an ideal society through collective ownership of property, equality, and cooperation, without the need for a revolution.
5. Romanticism: An artistic and literary movement that emphasized emotion, imagination, nature, and individualism, and rejected the rationalism and formalism of the Enlightenment.