February Journal

As one of the Project Managers, I have to admit I did not keep accountability with my workmates and classmates, besides being focused and listening in class on Fridays. I am going to improve in this aspect for the rest of the semester.

Week February 6th-12th: Reviewed the UI made from last semester. The new changes in regards to the design of the homepage and what it will include makes sense.

Week February 13th-19th: I went a few times over the Athletic Event Planner to make notes and take notes for future questions and concerns about the app.

Week February 27th- March 5th: Check with Venus and Enosh if they needed help. No help was needed.
