This week, things are really starting to form and take shape. Starting to host weekly youth

FIELD EDUCATION The Log

meetings, bible studies, and one on one sessions. The one on one sessions are very helpful as they allow me to develop relationships with them, as well as for the youth to have a moment to share their thoughts and concerns.

We will also be doing our first youth mini conference next month discussing finances. We are hoping to not only focus on spirituality, but build well rounded youth who benefit the society as well.

2 additional points to note:

- We are planning a retreat event for the youth in August/September
- We are looking to collaborate with another church to have cross church youth events. Idea is to hopefully create an environment for the youth where they feel something new is continually happening. Don't want to have any repetition/routine feeling
