Jamar Matthew 11:30pm – 11:45

The idea of the American dream to me means that you don't have to live from paycheck to paycheck. It means that you always have to look over your shoulder and worry if you were make it to next month. It most importantly means that you were able to provide for yourself, and for loved ones, without the fear of letting them down due to finances. The American dream involves house a steady job, and just living a naturally good life.