

FIELD EDUCATION
The Log

Week # 6 (2/27/23-3/5/23)

Hours This Week: 30 Total Hours: 217.25 / 360

HOURS SPENT / TASKS & ACTIVITIES	REFLECTIONS JOURNALING THOUGHTS PROCESSING
One on one prep: 2.5 hours One on one meetings: 5.75 Mentoring and meeting with Hans(Course Mentor): 2 New Staff Formation (NSF) meetings/training and prep: 4.5 Area team meeting and other: 2 Hang with students: 1 Group prayer prep and meet: 1.25 Large group attendance: 1 Large group talk prep: 5.25 Prep and organization for Spring break things for students: 3.25 Gen Z webinar: 1.5 Total hours: 30	One on one meetings: Being present to both the individual I am meeting with and the holy spirit is hard but rewarding. These weeks with one on ones are busy and I am leaning I need time between meetings to capture notes and review notes for next meeting. Prep for these has become more prayerful which has led me to be less anxious when in the meetings Large group talk prep: Up to this point I have talked or led studies on things and passages I am passionate about and this talk is a great topic but not something I have put a lot of thought and study of. It is making prep hard. I think I finally hit a point this week that it became something interesting and relevant to my Christian walk and I found the drive to answer some students question in this realm motivating. The talk is on new creation and what happens when we die or when the Jesus comes back and makes world new again. NSF training: I am coming to grips with the fact that I am a Millennial and I work with Gen Zers. I am also coming to grips with the fact that Intervarsity is gearing their training of new staff to Gen Zers. This is ok with me, it is just a mind set shift. I am getting trained after I have already done something in the field, which is not what I am use to.

MEETING(S) WITH MENTOR(S) TOPICS OF DISCUSSION REFLECTIONS
We talked through a key meeting last week with group of students. We talked about resting now and planning for summer. We talked discernment of vocation and what would help. Talked through how students could help in this and living into the reality of seeing freshman graduate.