

Three things that I learned from the short film are:

1: When Serbia did not accept some demands of Austria the World War 1 started and Germany mobilized its own army and start war against Russia and then declared war against France. There was believe that war was good for the nations and could help them to be defined who they are.

2: World War 1 featured solders from around the world. Britain's army including solders from India, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, and Canada. Africans were also with the French army as well. And their experiences helped to build nationalist movements after they went back to their countries.

3: World War 1 was the deadliest war and the reason that the war was so deadly was the combination of the of the new technology and outdated tactics. The two most devastating technology were Americans machine guns and barbed wire. With the causalities that World War 1 took from armed and public people there was another efficient killer was disease. Dysentery, typhus, and cholera was the diseases that that took people during this war. Influenza the brook out during the end of the war that killed 3 times as many people as the war itself.