

Donovan CRawford

1. World war 1 wasn't the craziest in terms of destruction or a war to end all wars, it was the war that changed all wars.
2. War happened because of the alliance system and the thought that war was good for culture. During this time war was "necessary"
3. Trenches went on to 25,000 miles, which was bad for soldiers because they were wet and smelly. Soldier life was hard, they barely ate and consistently had the thought of death in their heads.
4. Alcohol got soldiers through the war allowing them to drink their problems away.
