My Role Model

I owe much of who I am today to my dad. Although my mother was present throughout my childhood, it was my relationship with my dad that truly shaped my growth and development. As a successful pastor who owned a church, he showed me what was possible through hard work, persistence, and trust in God. He took a personal interest in my life and encouraged me to pursue my passions, always pushing me to reach for the stars.

Whenever I faced challenges or obstacles, he was there to offer guidance and support. His belief in me gave me the confidence to pursue my dreams, even when the path seemed uncertain. He was always available to offer advice and share his own experiences, giving me valuable insight into the world.

Today, as I look back on my journey and prepare for the future, I am grateful for the role he played in my life.
