Film & Response

My first thing I take away from the video is first I never knew that Germany allied with Austria and Russia Allied with Serbia, because Germany and Austria both saw Russia as their main enemy.

World war two was a destructive, the war killed about 15 million people, based by percentage that WW1 for country, in france, over 13.3% of men percent of the population died on the war, not only soldiers, but regular civilians were also affected by the war, specially Ottoman Empire where more than 2 million people got killed and they were non-combatants. But something that we have to mention that the biggest cause of deaths was the diseases that was developed at that time, Dysentery, Typhus and Cholera were the main diseases that would fatal kill soldiers that were injured in the war and not finish mention that influenza epidemic hit everyone at the end of the WW1 that killed 3x more people than the war itself

Another fact that i learned in this short movie, how this war was so deadly, how it killed so many people was because of the combination of new technology with old tactics and the use of machine guns was a devastation to that time and barbed wire, two things created in america.
