

HIS114: World Civilization II
LYNDELL O'HARA
Karinna Rocha

In the early 20th centuries the facism was created in Italy, from Benito Mussolini, at the end of the world war 1, Italy was destroyed, and many of the italians was afraid that the same communist revolution that happened in Russia, that was born between the workers and caused a massive civil war, and created a big fear for the Italians, so they created the Facism, extreme the right side, both were against the democracy because they believed that only Economical class would interfere so communism (left) believed for the end of the classes divisions, implementation of the common properties where everyone would have equally life style, in the other hand, the Fascism(right) did not believe on equality social society, it was divided on weak and strong people, and the state controls 100% on everything, The idea on the fascism is that the civilians is controlled by the State and and working together to turn the Nation stronger, and this ideology is totally against the liberalism, and the socialism and communism. On the other hand, communism is against Capitalism, and free them from long hours of work and the division of labor.