This week we are to describe political ideology,

Fascism is where a leader or nation is not interested in any changes but they should remain the same. Basically this party is not looking to change with the times (generation) so they expect that everyone keeps the traditions of the culture or nation.

Liberalism is a political ideology that looks in the interest of human rights and relationships. This group focuses on the issues that separate the country.

Communism, a political theory of which I get , is a dictatorship in which this party is against the other party's belief.
