

Ariele D'Amil
3-23-23
Dr. O'Hara
World Civ II

1. World War I began with an act of terrorism with the assassination Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria by Gavrilo Princip of Serbian in 1914.
2. No one took responsibility for the war instead they just blamed on another and other countries got involved because of the alliances that each of the countries they were involved had in place.
3. That war was seen as good for nations. It drew a line "between them vs us" and strengthened the idea of "us".
4. World War I was considered a writer's war. Many men wrote about their experiences living in trenches and drank a lot of alcohol to help them forget about their sorrows.
5. 15 million people were killed during the war and 20 million were wounded.
6. When the war end the Ottoman Empire was no more and the country of Turkey was established
7. More Indians died than American during World War I but America seem to have gotten more autonomy which made them a credit country instead of a debited country.