| 4hrs – Sunday Worship experience – Setup-team and facilitated Congregational offering and Greeting. 1 hr. – Check-in w/ Pastor Lou 90 minutes - Midweek 30 minute – Check-in w/ Lynn | Although I had been doing the Congregational Greeting and Offering, I had previously done it as Deaconess Tiffany and although I am still me with the internship officially starting, I felt like I had to bring a newer version of. Owing that ABBA has placed me i this space at this time specifically and that this is a part of his divine plan has enabled me to want to serve him well. That begins with me not being a timid version of myself but of taking the place ABBA has given me with the authority provided by the Holy Spirit. I started by asking to meet with Pastors Christian and Pastor Jon to get a steady schedule and rotation – I am Week 1 – the schedule was something they both were happy to do – a schedule that is. Pastor Lou and I had at different times discussed the contract and what he was looking to see from me in terms of my own spiritual growth and how this internship would look like. I have had some interpersonal challenges with some at the church over the years and Pastor Lou stated that he will be looking to see how in this season I handle those challenges. In addition, he informed me that my internship would end with me preaching on no level was I ready for that turn of events. I am looking at these opportunities at the podium to get more comfortable. |

|  | One of my primary tasks during this internship will be to work on a set-up and breakdown manual for those currently on the team and for those whom we are looking to recruit to the ministry in the coming weeks and months. Sister Lynn will be my mentor in helping me organize and bring these endeavors to life. I have known Lynn for about five but since she lives in Florida my relationship with her has been limited but I am looking forward to how she will expand my knowledge base and some of my skill sets. |

| Pastor Lou was not pleased with the personal goals that I had set he felt that they were too general and not at all S.M.A.R.T Goals which is what the purpose of having is. After basically tossing out what I had we brainstormed some others together and he felt that they were too general and not specific enough. If I am honest I do not give much thought to personal goals I would much rather have the Holy Spirit order and guide my steps so I am working out how to achieve some of these personal goals that I have committed to. |
