

Autumn Nash
Dr. Stephen Maret
PSY 441 APA Paper Outline
22 March 2023

I. Introduction

- A. Biography of Carl Jung
- B. Overview of Jung's theory of psychological types
- C. Importance of psychological types in understanding personality

II. The four functions

- A. Definition of the four functions
 - 1. thinking, feeling, sensation, intuition
- B. Description of each function and their characteristics
- C. Examples of how each function is expressed in different personality types

III. Attitudes

- A. Definition of attitudes
 - 1. extraversion and introversion
- B. Explanation of how attitudes affect personality
- C. Examples of how different attitudes can impact behavior

IV. The eight psychological types

- A. Overview of the eight types
- B. Explanation of how the functions and attitudes combine to create the types
- C. Examples of famous individuals who exhibit each type or professions that thrive for each type

V. Criticisms and controversies

- A. Criticisms of Jung's theory of psychological types
 - 1. Split that happened with Freud
- B. Alternative theories of personality
- C. Continued discussion of the relevance of Jung's theory in modern psychology and in society.

VI. Conclusion

- A. Summary of the key points of Jung's theory of psychological types
- B. Reflection on the significance of understanding psychological types in personal and professional contexts
- C. Final thoughts on the relevance of Jung's ideas in psychology.