Questions

1. If you were Hailly's friend, what responsibilities would you have, if any, for helping her?
As a friend there are no responsibilities that I would have to help her other than to talk about my observations as Amy did. As a friend, I could only give emotional support and respect her privacy. I am only allowed to help if Hailly request it.
2. If you were Dan's friend, what might you say to alter his behaviors?
If I were Dan's friend I would give emotional support and share with him how I feel about him and what he's doing.
3. How does the concept of reflected appraisal, discussed in Chapter 9 apply to this case?
It means that Hailly would have to see herself the way that her friend Amy sees her. Also, Hailly's behavior is reflective of the way that Dan treats and speaks to her. The
