Week 10 Response Questions:

1. Some of the other employment opportunities in musical stage theater are off-broadway theater to help with the cost of showing musicals and give others an almost equal opportunity to perform and gain attention. A person could also do school productions, like plays, musicals, dramas, etc. There is also regional theater, like dinner theaters will have less famous actors or stars come and perform, there is summer theater when replaces will have a drive-in-movie or an outdoor play, and music festivals, etc.
2. The job of a producer in musical theater is for them to asses the assets for the client. Meaning they observe how much money is coming in, being spent, and overall making sure that the artist is getting everything they need to perform with ease.
