1.What depictions of the Holocaust are you familiar with?

I'm not sure if these questions are asking about arts and films that portray or tell the story of the Holocaust, but one depiction of the Holocaust is Schindler's List (1993) produced by Steven Spielberg.

1. Who projects them?

Although Steven Spielberg directed the film it is Steven Zaillian

2. Why do they do so? - What propositions about identity and meaning of the world do images of the Holocaust attempt to create?

Just like other films about the history of that culture, ethnic group. The storyteller is looking to have others outside of the race, culture or religion to understand what their own people went through.

3. What conditions in today's world make for the continued resonance of such images?

I would have to say the war in Ukraine with the Russians
