Topical overviews or talks need time for prep. There is an aspect of letting the bible speak for itself and not allowing ourselves to read into it what we want it to say. This was on my mind as I read commentaries and other books. One on ones: There was confirmation this week that I am being seen as part of the staff team by students this week. The team aspect of this vocation is quite different then my pervious job of 14 years. The staff team at this school is three right now with one moving this summer. I could move to school without staff next year if I stay on. We don't do a lot of task together but do try and gather once a week to pray together with our one other staff two hours away.

MEETING(S) WITH MENTOR(S)    TOPICS OF DISCUSSION    REFLECTIONS
This week we took about two one-hour meetings to talk thru the discussion I am facilitating on 30 March. It was helpful to get advice from someone who has done this and that knows the group of students we have right now. We also talk thru prioritization of task, which was also helpful as I was not seeing all the task I was taking on, and that we as a team are not tracking well.
