What passage would you like to work on for your final project? Why? What draws your attention to this passage? (about 200 words).

The passage I would like to work on for my final project is Job Chapter 1. The reason I would like to work on this passage is that it shows me that you can have it all and lose it all in a blink of an eye, it teaches me that when you remain faithful and loyal to God despite the losses in your life that God will not forsake you, It shows me that evil is always going to be out there and the devil is always going to want to try to bring us down and put us to the test and of course with the permission of God but that as long as we remain true to ourself and to God we will stand in victory and at the end of the day we were born naked with nothing and that is exactly how we will die and we need to learn to be grateful, patience and appreciated to what we have no matter how hard life gets we can always trust in God and remember that someone else, must have it harder than us and if Job did not question God while losing it all through sickness and health then who are we to question our God.

How are you going to do it? Sermon? Essay? Research paper? Presentation? Explain your idea to me and tell me why it makes sense for you to do it this way. (about 300 words).

As for now, I plan to create a presentation for my final project. My idea consists of starting off with an introduction of who Job is and his background such as the timeline, birthplace, era, description, and images of Job. Then presenting the full Bible passage of Job chapter one verses 1 through 22 and emphasizing his losses and sufferings and illnesses but also showing how being humble and faithful how he was restored to health and a bigger earning not only of having more than what he lost but his salvation and peace with God, But not only that but taking a moment to honor Lastly would be to give a slight personal reflection on how I can apply it to my life and how others can apply it to their own. And of course sources and images would be in place to make it more presentable and also reliable. This plan makes sense to me to do it this way because I see it as an intro, body, and conclusion, I feel like doing a presentation slide would be more effective as it can be read and viewed at your own pace, and able have visuals gives the passage a deeper viewpoint. I feel like a moment of reflection would give individuals the opportunity to try to see and feel what Job went through and how it can be applied to our life.
