

Camille Pinheiro

Professor Lyndell O'Hara

World Civilization

10 April 2023

Research and Writing 11

The first thought that comes to my mind when I see the image of the Crusades is how the Christians and the Muslims conflicted. Christians and Muslims wanted to protect their holy sites, leading them to war. The Crusades were a series of religious wars initiated, supported, and sometimes directed by the Latin Church in the medieval period to fight against the Muslims that tried to conquer Jerusalem.

We can see clearly in this image how they were at war. It is also easy to distinguish between them. The people in the building are the Muslims, and the others are the Crusades.

We can see how their territories were very important for both of the groups. according to the book, we can also see how long these wars lasted. It was very intense and they would do anything to get the territories back, ending on many Christians killing Muslims and Muslims killing Christians.

Work Cited

1320: Section 15: The crusades and medieval christianity. (n.d.). Retrieved April 10, 2023, from <https://www.usu.edu/markdamen/1320hist&civ/chapters/15crusad.htm>

Morillo, S. (2014). Frameworks of World history. Oxford University Press.