Covid-19 Pandemic

Covid 19 is an disease that originated in China in 2019, and affected the whole entire world. Covid is known to be one of the most quickly spreaded disease. The disease cause the world to shut down and go completely mobile including business shutting down and store closings. Globally, as of 5 April 2023, there have been 762,791,152 confirmed cases of COVID-19, including 6,897,025 deaths.

Introduction

The person I interviewed one of my closest friends name Denaira. She is currently 28 but was 24 when affected by covid. Denaira is born and raised in New Jersey and Lived in New Jersey during the Covid-19 pandemic. During this time she worked at an local Marshalls store in her town.

Personal Recollection

Denairia first reaction when covid hit was her feeling overwhelm. She says that everything was happening so quick with very little knowledge of the disease. She says that she has caught covid and had to participate in quarantine, a 14 day isolation. She is also now vaccinated because requirement. The hardest part for her was not being able to make the mount of money she needed due to her job closing down. She had to depend on unemployment checks. The whole pandemic was a tough time for her mentally as she felt trapped inside away for social life.

Looking back at it she says Covid was a learning experience, from it she says the world is a cleaner place and people are more familiar with their surroundings.

HOW CORONAVIRUS BECAME A GLOBAL PANDEMIC

WSJ

The interview was fun and an learning experience. I got to know how someone else was personally affected by covid other than myself. For her Covid hurt her more because of her situation. Me being younger still in highschool with nothing to lose thought covid allow me to do school from home and play video games all day. People with more responsibility really was hit by the pandemic and Denaria was one of them.
