1. What are different ways music videos can earn money?

Music videos can earn money through YouTube by stacking up views on top of views. Another way is if your music video becomes very popular and likable then maybe it can be used in a TV commercial and that can definitely bring in another way of income.

2. Is YouTube a hero for offering a promotional juggernaut, or a villain for paying little to artists and labels?

YouTube is one of the biggest hero's to ever touch the internet and probably will always be and that is due to thousands of different reasons. YouTube is not a villain at all because all it does is open nothing but opportunities for millions of people across the world. The reason for the low pay is due to the fact that there are millions of free users who can upload unlimited videos and earn unlimited money if they put out great consistent content to the public. YouTube is the biggest promotional juggernaut there is it has helped athletes, musicians, podcast members and etcetera.
