Part B-

1. What is your population of Interest?

My population of interest is the department in the company for which I work for. I am only currently interested in my department not the company.

2. What is your estimated sample size?

My estimated sample size is about 40-50 employees.

3. How well do you think your results will generalize to other groups, companies, etc.

I believe my results would easily generalize to other groups or companies. The results could be a template for others to use, who are looking for a similar variable.

4. What are potential lurking variables?

A potential lurking variable could be Employees sense of flourishing.

5. What confuses you most about writing your thesis?

Honestly, I don't feel confused about my thesis. I feel stuck. I feel slightly intimidated by my thesis. I need to find a way to attack this so that I don't get to far behind.
