

FIELD EDUCATION

The Log

Week # 1

Hours This Week: 12 Total Hours: 12 / 120

HOURS SPENT / TASKS & ACTIVITIES	REFLECTIONS JOURNALING THOUGHTS PROCESSING
12 hours- time was spent armor bearing for my overseer throughout the entire Sunday. This meant I had to make preparations for the overseer prior to his arrival to the church. This included cleaning the church and his office. During the start of service I prepare his items for his sermon. Throughout the services when there is an altar call I work the altar and follow his movements and go behind any individual that he lays his hands upon. After service, I stay by his side to see if there is anything that he needs, while having conversations with visitors/new members that are looking to have a conversation with him.	Most of my reflections of this week were centered around God's approval of me. I feel myself being developed and prepared to be out in the forefront as it pertains to ministry, and usually my fears take over and I end up folding. As God has been pushing me outward, He's also been doing work inward. This week in particular He has me meditating on Scripture that revolves around the topic of proving myself to others. I believe that in meditating on these Scriptures that show God's love, affirmation and approval of me, I'll continue to be strengthened as I'm going forth in ministry.

FIELD EDUCATION

The Log

MEETING(S) WITH MENTOR(S) TOPICS OF DISCUSSION REFLECTIONS
This particular meeting with my overseer/mentor included the extension of my role in the ministry. I've been armor bearing for some time now, and there have been discussions of being a counselor/liaison for the young adults in the youth/young adult ministry- particularly those who are married or are aspiring to get married. In the coming days I will learn more about the role and all that it entails, but I believe this is an exciting opportunity and look forward to it.