

FIELD EDUCATION The Log

Week # 2

Hours This Week: 12 Total Hours: 24 / 120

| HOURS SPENT / TASKS & ACTIVITIES | REFLECTIONS JOURNALING THOUGHTS PROCESSING |
|--|--|
| 12 hours- time was spent armor bearing for my overseer throughout the entire Sunday. This meant I had to make preparations for the overseer prior to his arrival to the church. This included cleaning the church and his office. During the start of service I prepare his items for his sermon. Throughout the services when there is an altar call I work the altar and follow his movements and go behind any individual that he lays his hands upon. After service, I stay by his side to see if there is anything that he needs, while having conversations with visitors/new members that are looking to have a conversation with him. | God has been tremendously dealing with me in the area of speaking up. I'm someone who doesn't say or speak much, but observes something all the way through. Whether it be because I want to remain "honorable" or don't want others to look at me a certain kind of way after speaking up- bottom line is God is stretching me and trying to take me to another dimension in leadership, and this involves me having to speak up and address issues at hand, which nonetheless have to be addressed in decency and in order. |

FIELD EDUCATION
The Log

MEETING(S) WITH MENTOR(S) || TOPICS OF DISCUSSION || REFLECTIONS

This particular meeting with my overseer/mentor included his emphasis on staying ready to serve. There was a major meeting this past Wednesday, and he brought it up in the discussion to say that when one stays ready to serve, there's no telling what God can do while one is in the mode of serving. A lot of transition is taking place, and in the midst of it, the message is to stay ready to serve, expecting the unexpected.