

FIELD EDUCATION
The Log

Week # 10

Hours This Week: 12 Total Hours: 120 / 120

| HOURS SPENT / TASKS & ACTIVITIES | REFLECTIONS JOURNALING THOUGHTS PROCESSING |
|--|--|
| 12 hours- time was spent armor bearing for my overseer throughout the entire Sunday. This meant I had to make preparations for the overseer prior to his arrival to the church. This included cleaning the church and his office. During the start of service I prepare his items for his sermon. Throughout the services when there is an altar call I work the altar and follow his movements and go behind any individual that he lays his hands upon. After service, I stay by his side to see if there is anything that he needs, while having conversations with visitors/new members that are looking to have a conversation with him. | “After the furnace comes the glory...the Lord will allow you to pass a test...” This was some of a prophetic word I received recently, and boy have I been feeling the fire. I can’t help but feel that this is such a pivotal season, and so much is at stake because it can lead to propelling into purpose or a major setback. I can’t afford to make such quick decisions, but rely on trusting God with the right outcome. |

FIELD EDUCATION
The Log

MEETING(S) WITH MENTOR(S) || TOPICS OF DISCUSSION || REFLECTIONS

This particular meeting with my overseer/mentor was regarding the church being a family. He used his biological family as an example, and how no matter what arguments or opposing views one may have with his brother or sister, they are family at the end of the day. My mentor believes the same should be applied in the church, and I certainly agree.