Discussion Questions: Week 14

1. I feel that the most important factor in job satisfaction is being well paid because I would rather strive to express myself if I feel that I will see the fruits of my labor and that it is at a satisfactory level. It's not to say it's all about the money but I believe I should be paid or compensated for putting in hard work.
2. Some important steps in finding work is to, first network and make an image of yourself, then you'll want to use that networking to land some interviews, these interviews help you get a foot into landing a job. Next, you'll want to analyze your work habits and your personality in how it fits with the workplace. Lastly, doing research on creating a good resume and gaining more interviews.
