Rationale:

260C.212 Subd. 14. Support age-appropriate and developmentally appropriate activities for foster children. Responsible social services agencies and child-placing agencies shall support a foster child's emotional and developmental growth by permitting the child to participate in activities or events that are generally accepted as suitable for children of the same chronological age or are developmentally appropriate for the child. Foster parents and residential facility staff are permitted to allow foster children to participate in extracurricular, social, or cultural activities that are typical for the child's age by applying reasonable and prudent parenting standards. Reasonable and prudent parenting standards are characterized by careful and sensible parenting decisions that maintain the child's health and safety, and are made in the child's best interest.

Purpose:

To ensure that each foster child can experience equal “normalcy” in extracurricular activities as a non-foster child. Following the Prudent Parenting Standards allows the foster child’s extended team to assist with making reasonable decisions in the best interest of the foster child.

Procedure:

When a foster child makes a request for an extracurricular activity, overnight stays or wants to make a drastic change in appearance. The designated will contact the guardian and social worker for consultation. If unable to reach either party the designated staff will utilize the Prudent Parenting Standards listed above in statute.

When at all possible the extended team should follow the case plan/out of home placement plan. It is best practice to make these plans as detailed as possible. When making decisions about the foster child the team must consider the following:

- Is it age and developmentally appropriate
- Is it accepted as suitable for children of the same chronological age or level of maturity
- All decisions should be based off of the child’s emotional, physical and behavioral capacities typical for an age group
- Risk of activity
- Importance of experience in the child’s emotional and developmental growth
- Importance of a family like experience
- Wishes of parent and guardian as appropriate

Benefits:

Following the guidelines may increase social and emotional bonds; participating in activities that make them feel “normal” may mitigate trauma. Provide foster kids the opportunity to practice skills in a protected environment and contributes to a successful transition to adulthood.
