

SHARING HEBREW CALENDAR

By:

Elaine Acosta

Hebrew Basics

Real World School of Ministry

Instructor Barb Palmer

May 14, 2021

Shared with Ms. Jackie Reddish

Ms. Jackie Reddish is a co-worker that I have had the pleasure in getting to know during the COVID-19 pandemic, due to her and I being a part of a 5-man skeleton crew since March of 2020.

Jackie was sharing with me about somethings that she has been praying for in her life and she just lost her uncle. As I hear her talking about transitioning, It was a great Segway into the Month of Sivan. Jackie has heard me mention a few times about learning Hebrew and about our roots.

I let her know that God is still with her in this time, and that her transitioning has moved into extravagant provision. I explained about how the month of Sivan means brighten their covering, in so that God will illuminate his covering for her.

I mentioned to her how about the Month of he year that this represents in the Spirit is Provision, and A camel with two humps that are lifted up and full.

Explained to her how each Hebrew Month highlights a Tribe of Isreal, and this month it is the Tribe of Zebulum, and he was the 10th Son of Jacob.

When I mentioned that this is the month that Jesus went up to Heaven, and sent us the Holy Spirit, she then became engaged. Jackie stated how she loves History, and the old testament has been one of the things that she would really like to get into deeper.

I then mentioned to her that In Gen 1, God created everything we needed first – before he created man. We ended the conversation with me letting her know that this is a month to keep walking without stopping, Gave her Matt 4:19 when Jesus said to Follow Me.

Let her know that this is a time to enlarge her boundaries, and to Let God fill her Sails.

Ms. Jackie had to go; however, she wants to sit down with me in person an go over this again. Gave her Christine Vales website so that she can do some research on her own.