

Thanks for purchasing this full semester bundle of literary term/device lecture materials.

For each of the 19 weekly Lit. Term lessons, I made a short video for you to use as lecturer notes/prep materials. I use these videos as part of my flipped classroom experience, so the narration of each video was made as if I were talking directly to my students instead of to fellow educators. The video content should provide a good model for you to use as a bell-ringer mini-lecture for your own students. Each video is about five minutes in length. Hope you enjoy them!

Please note that the licensing agreement from TpT and copyright law prevent you from sharing these unlisted/private mode YouTube links and/or the slides online. Posting of these materials may happen ONLY in a password-protected environment intended to be accessed solely by your direct students, such as Google Classroom or Edmodo. Posting on public websites (WordPress, Blogger, Wix, etc.) is prohibited.

Thanks for your purchase! Hope you like these bell-ringer materials.

Thanks,
