

Notes

1. When objects travel the same direction their relative speed is different
2. Vector quantity-physical measurement that contains directional info