

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you****

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**

7th Grade Lit & Comp Plans for Week of April 24th

1. Read through chapter 38 of There's a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom.
Be sure to record your reading on your log. It is due May 5th.
2. This week, choose your homework:

Reread Bradley's book report. Begin a simple book report about one of your favorite books. Try to write about a book you don't think many of your peers have read. Follow Bradley's example and describe the main characters. Give your opinion of the book and how it was written. Write a rough draft this week.

Or

Complete the rough draft of your fictional story this week.

**Some students have a very stressful week with performances, etc. If you want to choose to wait to finish your rough draft, you may. That choice will mean you have to revise, edit, and complete your final draft next week. I will let you choose what works best for you**