

Cora Stallings, ASL 1

Some of my favorite hobbies are listening to music, and playing my instruments. Hearing is important to these activities. If I were deaf, I wouldn't be able to listen to music at all. I don't know if you can play instruments if you're deaf, but I think it would be much harder. You would have no idea what you sounded like, or if you were hitting the right chords. Some deaf people can feel the vibrations of music, but it's different if you can't hear it.
