1.

I think that The Poet thinks that revenge is wrong, but that Beowulf thinks that it must be done sometimes, to carry out justice and to end violence.

2.

Because he doesn't want them to get left behind.

They might not go home because of the shame of losing beowulf against grendel.

3.

The first sword, Hrunting, cannot pierce through Grendel's Mother's Hide. But then Beowulf finds a massive sword, forged by Ettins, which is able to kill her, but then it promptly melts because of the heat from her blood, caused by her malice.

4.

Ancient and powerful named swords.

1.

Hermond is meant to be an example to beowulf to not become prideful.

That if you have wealth you should be generous instead of prideful and greedy.

Hrothgar tells Beowulf to guard his soul against a "Night Marauder," which represents pride.

The "Night Marauder" is meant to remind us of grendel.

2.

Nothing specific in this chapter.
